COMMITTEE ENDORSES DISTRICT HOSPITAL PLAN

A majority of City Councilmen casting a vote Monday night voted to award Campbell garbage contract to Los Gatos Scavenger Company with the monthly householder fee to remain at 75 cents. Company has agreed to furnish service according to terms of the proposal submitted last week, to operate under provisions of the city ordinance, and to furnish a performance bond.

Councilman J. B. Arends, Jr. and Joseph Dahl registered 'yes' votes on the proposal; Councilman Joseph V. Gomes refrained from voting, and Mayor Richard W. Morton voted no. Councilman J. Fred-eric Snyder was absent.

John Yerovich, Rincon avenue rancher, had also submitted a contract to handle city disposal, which was rejected.

R. J. Leech, 126 Dillon Avenue, property owner, appeared before the council concerning straightening the Los Gatos Creek channel to prevent shifting of property bordering the creek, cause by gravel operations. The matter was referred to City engineer and to finance committee.

In the matter relating to danger of collapse of Page street dam, referred to council by a resolution prepared by Orchard City Garage, City Engineer Mark Thomas, recommending adoption of an ordinance prohibiting excavations within 1,000 feet of bridge or control of excavations throughout the city.

City council decided to continue the public hearing for one week on the application of Harry Weisend to operate an automobile wrecking company on property at the end of Dillon avenue. Councilman Dahl moved to refer the question of a permit to the city attorney to decide if city has jurisdiction on the matter.

Decision to hold over the hearing followed a controversy as to what constitutes an established use.

Weisend, discussion brought out, had been operating an automobile wrecking company before the Campbell interim zoning ordinance went into effect. Question arose as to whether the burning of the car bodies is an incidental or integral part of the business.

Since on the admission of Weisend, the burning occupies only a few hours a month, Councilman Gomes argued it could not be considered an established use.

"Burning lowers the property values in the area," Gomes said. "And if a permit were issued in this case, it would set a precedent for burning in that area. If the property were to be sold, the next owner might burn so as to create a nuisance."

If the city attorney decides that Campbell has no jurisdiction in the matter due to a use having been established before the Campbell ordinance went into effect, the proceedings would terminate as far as the zoning aspect was concerned. Weisend would still have to obtain a burning permit from Fire Chief Jack B. Scott, it was pointed out.

Letters filed by deputy city clerk were received from Walter B. Phillips for employment in Campbell Police department, from State Board of Equalization regarding renewal of beer and wine license of Henry Langevin, new owner of Lico's Market on Campbell Ave.; a letter from Campbell Congregational Church withdrawing application for rezoning was also filed by deputy clerk.

Matters deferred for further consideration included a report from Finance and License Committee regarding salaries for the City Clerk and City treasurer, and consideration of municipal police problem.

Mrs. Ana Johnson, 33 S. Milton appeared before the council to object to disturbances created by hooligans in the vicinity of the high school and the Five Spot Drive-in. The mayor reminded her that since Campbell police department is still non-existent, the only body to handle the situation at present is the Highway Patrol.

Miss Winnie Grizzle, 752 E. Campbell Avenue, appeared before

GAS AND LIGHT BILLS REDUCED IN CAMPBELL

Taxpayers of the City of Campbell will save approximately $15,595.00 per year on their gas and electric bills because of the recent incorporation of the city, it was announced today by Mayor Richard W. Morton and D. S. Aiken, Division Commercial Manager of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

Approximately 1468 domestic customers will enjoy a total saving of $10,962.00 in gas and electric bills for residential service each year.

Bills for commercial and industrial customers within the city limits have been reduced by $3,494 a year.

The cost to the taxpayers for street lighting alone has been reduced in the amount of $1,139.00 per year. This is a direct reduction in taxes within Campbell Lighting District.

The new lower charges for gas and electricity are now in effect, being computed on all meter readings on and after May 25, 1952.

EXTENSION TO START AUGUST 1

Effective August 1, 1952, Los Gatos will be added to the toll-free calling area of Campbell and Saratoga, extended service/telephones, but not to non-extended telephones it was announced today by W. E. Williams, Pacific Telephone District Manager.

Under the new arrangement to be placed in operation next month, all telephones with ELgato 4 numbers will be within the Campbell extended area. The change will not result in any increase in charges for Campbell exchange service, said Williams. He added that after the change, calls to Los Gatos should continue to be placed with the operator as in the past.

The addition of Los Gatos to the Campbell extended area is a result of a cooperative arrangement between Pacific Telephone and the Los Gatos Telephone Company, Williams said.

LOCAL POOL SETS RECORD

Bill Perry, Campbell High school swimming pool director, announced that a total of 2857 Campbell area residents took advantage of the pool recreational facilities during the past week. An additional 2205 Campbell area children received swimming instruction in the regular morning swim classes, making a week's total of 5062 swimmers to frolic in the local pool.

A new record for daily attendance was set last Wednesday when 617 swimmers passed the gate, bettering the previous mark by 170.

"There will be recreational swimming every Monday evening," Perry said, "although other evenings the pool will open only if the temperature registers 85 or better by one o'clock in the afternoon."

Perry said that openings exist in the third session only for the 9 a.m. group which must furnish its own transportation.

There are several openings in the fourth and fifth sessions, Perry announced. The swim staff stated that in the near future a competitive swimming program will be inaugurated which will feature swimming contests between various age groups among boys.

Dates of competition will be announced later, Perry said.

Mrs. Sue J. Miller, 90 North San Jose-Los Gatos Road, has been appointed to the Republican State Central Committee, which will hold its first meeting at Sacramento August 3.

The appointment has been sent to the Secretary of State and Mrs. Marjorie H. E. Benedict has been notified. The women will have a meeting and caucus just preceding the organization meeting of the central committee.

SCHOOL BUSINESS OUTLINED FOR ROTARY CLUB

C. E. "Brad" Bradley, business manager for the Campbell Union School District, in his talk to the Campbell Rotary Club at the regular meeting Monday at IOOF Hall, discussed "School Business from a Business Viewpoint."

Bradley outlined recent growth in the Campbell Union School District and discussed the school budget of nearly one million dollars, of which teachers' salaries account for nearly three quarters of this amount. He stated that the purchasing of equipment and supplies and other planning is a job in itself, which, when filled, relieves the school superintendent to care for the most important aspect of his job, teaching and curriculum supervision, rather than being burdened with unending detail.

Also outlined for local club members was the new inventory system inaugurated for the district, something which Wm. C. Henley, superintendent, has realized was necessary, but which had to wait until a business manager was appointed. Bradley presented as an illustration of some of the problems to be faced, the school cafeteria. He stated that the "incidental tools" pots, pans, etc., in the kitchen, amounted to over $1500 in value.

Fred Jones Jr., was chairman of the day. Next week's program will consist of a classical guitar program by Fred Stockton, the only teacher of classic guitar between Los Angeles and San Francisco.

While still in his teens, Stockton's musical skill won him a place in the Portland Symphony Orchestra. After several years with the Symphony, he left to play with dance bands and orchestras all over the Pacific Coast area.

LOCAL MAN ROBBED BY HITCHHIKER

Edward Rosselli, 15911 San Jose-Los Gatos Road, reported to Sheriff's deputies last Friday that he had been robbed by a knife-wielding, hitchhiker dressed as a soldier.

Rosselli said he was returning home from a Los Gatos bar when a soldier hitched a ride with him at Roberts Road and San Jose-Los Gatos Road. When Rosselli tried to start a conversation, the serviceman placed a knife against his ribs, Rosselli said. The motorist was ordered to drive to Dry Creek Road. The soldier removed the money from Rosselli's wallet and left on foot.

THE CRISP REPORT (Editorial)

Of special interest to the voters of the West Valley Hospital District is the release of the Crisp report. This report has been eagerly awaited by planners of the hospital district for several months to determine to a great extent the need, cost, operation and taxation questions involved in the operation of a hospital on a district level.

In the interest of clarification it might be well to point out that a measure on the ballot last year to erect a district hospital at Vasona junction was defeated by a small margin. Planners felt at that time that the defeat was due—not to the fact that the hospital was not needed—but to the fact that too little information was available concerning the need, cost, ect.

Saratoga, being one of the strongest areas in opposition to the erection of the hospital, it was determined by the board of the West Valley Hospital District to appoint a committee in that area, composed of residents who were not proponents of the hospital to conduct an impartial survey. This committee was headed by F. A. Crisp.

The findings of this committee determined the need for the West Valley Hospital. Facts brought to light in the impartial report justified the planning of several years on the part of the board of the West Valley Hospital District.

The pertinent parts of the report which the committee felt should be summarized are as follows:

- 1—Every resident of the West Valley Hospital District should be given all information available with respect to the proposed West Valley District Hospital particularly with respect to need, cost and taxes.
- 2—A hospital is needed at this time since facilities now available or projected for the immediate future do not fulfill requirements reasonably well on the basis of the essential beds required. Serious need developments within a short time on account of the large population increase and by 1962 becomes acute.
- 3—The cost of the hospital is estimated to be $750,000. This includes $75,000 of working capital.
- 4—The hospital will not be self-supporting during its first year of operation. With good management it should be self-supporting in its second and subsequent years.
- 5—The increase of taxes necessary to build and operate the hospital will not be excessive.
- 6—The proposed location is satisfactory.
- 7—It is recommended that in the best interests of this community the West Valley Hospital should be planned and construction started as soon as practicable.

The members of the Crisp committee deserve a lot of credit for the many hours of tireless effort that went into the report and should be commended for a job well done in the public interest.

The full and complete text of the Crisp report will be found in other columns of this issue of the Campbell Press.

WEST VALLEY HOSPITAL COMMISSION SUBMITS REPORT ON PROPOSED PLAN FOR BENEFIT OF NOVEMBER VOTERS

West Valley Hospital District Board of Directors has been working for the past three months on an exhaustive report of the proposed $750,000 West Valley Hospital to service the Redwood Township, Saratoga, Campbell, Cupertino, and surrounding areas. The report seeks to acquaint voters with the pertinent facts concerning the need for a hospital in the West Valley, the cost, operation, taxation, location and other general information relating to the proposal which will be on the November election ballot.

District voters in 1949 favored a hospital district. A proposal in 1951 to construct the hospital failed to receive the necessary two-thirds total although a majority at that time did favor the construction.

The 1951 proposal involved a fully-equipped hospital of 50 beds with facilities for future expansion to 100 beds. The District Hospital Board proposed a bond issue of $750,000 to finance the construction, the purchase of equipment and for the initial operation of the hospital. This proposal was turned down by the voters because of failure to receive the necessary two thirds majority vote.

In the 1951 election, Saratoga and precincts closest to the Santa Clara County Hospital registered the most consistent vote against the proposal. Certain precincts in Campbell also registered a strong vote against the proposal.

Comments by Campbell area residents are invited by the Campbell Press. The complete text of the report follows:

Early in 1952, a number of residents of Saratoga Township, realizing that they had not been able to obtain all essential facts with respect to the Community Hospital—its need, cost, location within the District—felt that a complete objective study of the matter by interested and unbiased persons irrespective of their previously known approval or disapproval of the project and with a view of determining facts that would be accepted by all voters as facts would help to clarify this issue should the proposal again be placed before the voters.

At a meeting of the District Hospital Board, a proposal for such a study was made to the Board. The Board accepted the proposal and offered its full cooperation.

A resident of Saratoga present at the meeting was requested to form this study group of other residents. Persons known to have previously opposed the hospital were contacted and requested to submit the names of other persons whom they felt were interested and would be willing to participate in this study. From a list of approximately thirty names obtained from several sources, a group of eleven persons was formed to make this objective and unbiased study.

The results are submitted herewith under:

Scientists at Battelle Memorial Institute, non-profit research organization, developed the new product, aptly named Nurish. Plants and lawns flourish as never before when fertilized with the new food, and there is no heavy package to carry around the yard. The concentrated food is odorless and stainless, won't harm skin or clothing, and a quart costs less than a penny. The liquid fertilizer takes advantage of the fact that plants take their nourishment by liquid, which is Nature's method. The new 20-20-20 formula—20 per cent each of nitrogen, potassium, and phosphorus—is augmented by essential micro-nutrients never before combined in plant food.

More About Hospital District

the report but is available for the inspection of any interested person.

Need for West Valley Hospital.

A need for a hospital very obviously develops when existing or projected hospital facilities in any area are inadequate to care for those who need hospitalization or where existing facilities, however adequate, are too remote to meet these needs: the factor of distance is that the facility should be within 30 minutes of those requiring its use. Practically all of the existing or projected hospital facilities in the area which can be considered as being available to residents of the West Valley Hospital District are within this time factor of 30 minutes. If the existing or projected facilities (beds, etc.) were ample to meet the need for hospitalization of residents of this District, it would not be logical or efficient to build a hospital in the District.

What extent distance from existing facilities creates a need?

- Are existing facilities overcrowded or unsanitary?
- Are existing facilities adequate?
- Are existing facilities up-to-date from a medical point of view?
- Can admittance be obtained within a reasonable time? (Emergencies excepted.)
- Are costs reasonable or does overcrowding and lack of competition result in exorbitant charges, inefficient or unsatisfactory service?

f. Is your family physician handicapped by having to handle his hospital patients many miles from his office or home?

These and many other similar questions can be answered without final conviction on the part of the questioner as to whether or not there is a real need. In view of the high cost involved, decision on need should be made on the more important factors. After detailed study the fact, other than the time factor which determines absolute need, is the number of usable hospital beds available to the residents of any area. Based on many years of experience, the hospital authorities of the Federal Government, the State of California and private associations, place the required number of beds from 2½ per thousand population in rural areas to seven per thousand population in metropolitan areas. In the opinion of these authorities, Los Gatos and the surrounding areas forming the West Valley District are considered to be an Urban area—an area approximately midway between Metropolitan and Rural.

A considerable amount of data was obtained and time spent in attempting to develop a "bed formula" for this area which represents its actual need. Even so, there was no complete unanimity of opinion, but after this study and serious consideration of the matter, a majority felt that for the West Valley Hospital District a formula of four beds per thousand of population represented best the actual needs of this area at the present time and in the foreseeable future.

It was decided to complete the study on the basis of this formula. A study using only conditions as they exist today would not be of value. Considering the tremendous influx of people to the State of California during the past decade and the certainty of future increases of population, it is believed that the study of hospital needs should cover a ten-year period of from 1952 to 1962.

The population of Santa Clara County today is approximately 331,000. Using the formula developed a total of 1324 beds is required to provide satisfactory hospitalization in 1952. There are now existing of projected for the County 1123 beds. Within a year another 50 beds may be projected. There is an actual shortage of 151

Diplomacy Works

THE OTHER DAY I had occasion to drive with a friend into a neighborhood where the youngsters are pretty much on their own, playing in New York City streets and hunting up what mischief they can find. As we stopped, we noticed a group of youngsters from say five to seven years old . . . young enough that they were not likely to do great injury.

But we also noticed that the parked cars in the immediate neighborhood were badly chalk-marked. As my friend parked his car, a group of tiny miscreants came near, standing at a safe distance and studying the car.

My friend got out of the car, walked over to those youngsters and said, "Say, boys, could you do me a favor?"

The youngsters eyed him, but didn't reply. Obviously they were not often asked a favor.

Said my friend, "I'd appreciate it if you'd keep an eye on my car and not let any of the bad boys around here mark it up with chalk as I see they have done to the other cars." Then he reached into his pocket and pulled out a handful of pennies which he distributed among the youngsters.

"Sure," said one, "we won't let any of the boys mark your car." "We'll whale 'em if they try it," said another. An appeal had been made to their manhood. No, sir, nothing was going to go wrong in that neighborhood with my friend's car.

We went on our errand, were gone half an hour and when we returned, one little chap sat belligerently on guard, while down the street came the rest of the group, sucking their lollipops and handing the guard his share as they neared him.

"They should be brought up not to be paid to keep out of wrong-doing," said one mother when she was told about this incident.

And that is true, but the best intentioned mothers are not going to have their children always follow the straight and narrow path, for children will be children, and scoldings aren't going to change them much.

hospital beds at the present time. If we look ahead for five years to 1957, we find that the population will have increased to 374,000. At that time 1496 beds will be required to meet essential requirements. In 1962 the population will be 425,000 and a total of 1700 beds needed.

It is clear then that unless additional facilities far beyond any now projected are added, there will be a shortage of 151 beds in 1952, 323 in 1957 and a far more serious condition in 1962 when this shortage will have increased to 527 beds. This condition will be proportionately much greater than elsewhere in the county.

It is evident therefore that there is a serious need for additional hospital facilities in Santa Clara County in the immediate future, and that steps should be taken now to provide these facilities.

Since the existing larger hospitals in San Jose are within reasonable time distances from the West Valley District it would be logical and far more efficient to add to their facilities or to construct a new and larger hospital in a central location sufficient to meet this need. Such a hospital would be available to many more persons than small District hospitals such as the one under consideration. A larger hospital can operate far more effectively and efficiently than a larger number of small units located throughout the county.

Information has been received that it is practically impossible today to raise funds from private subscription for new hospital construction or to expand existing hospitals by this means. Because of recent allotments of both Federal and State funds for additional facilities in San Jose, there seems little or no chance for such further contributions. Therefore it seems reasonable to predict that there will be no added hospital facilities built in this area in the immediate future except those provided by the several communities known as Districts—and built and paid for by the taxpayers of these Districts.

For the above reasons a hospital should be built in the West Valley District now. Even under the most favorable conditions this hospital CAN NOT be completed before mid-1954. At that time there will be an actual shortage of 187 beds.

Extensive data has been studied on the costs of small hospitals built in the State of California. These costs vary widely depending on locations, type of construction and various other factors. Our study has been confined to the specific hospital now proposed for this District for which plans and other data in some detail are now available and which it is proposed to have fully equipped to meet all essential requirements of a good hospital. Fortunately one of those studying this matter is a person highly skilled in design, construction and cost analysis and the cost figure as developed is as accurate as it is practicable to obtain at this time. The cost estimate is as follows:

Preliminary Cost Estimate of the Building, Equipment, etc., of West Valley Hospital, Santa Clara County, Calif., Sobey & Green, Architects.

The cost of the building is based on specifications substantially as outlined in Quantity Survey by LeRoy Construction Services, San Francisco, Calif.

This estimate is somewhat higher due to the fact that I feel certain construction should be changed to give better results. I believe the building should be heated by radiant heating rather than convection. This is particularly desirable in the bed rooms and operating rooms. All concrete floors should be waterproofed and membrane between structural and top concrete floors.

I also feel that finish floors, where asphalt tile, should be changed to some other type that is not so slippery with attendant danger of injury. Possible plastic or rubber in some places. All bedrooms and operating room should be soundproofed. Operating rooms should be plastered on all walls and ceilings.

- Cost of Building$480,000
- Fixed equipment 33,600
- 7 pct. of above cost
- Changes, contingencies14,400
- 3 pct. of bldg cost
- Total of contract items $528,000
- Architect's fee, 8 pct of contract items less $6,000 paid on account 36,240

The above estimate should be increased for driveways, grounds and landscaping.

OPERATION

All information available indicates that no new hospital can operate profitably during the first year of its operation. This is particularly true of the smaller hospitals established in new districts. Until the hospital is well established and operating effectively, there will be an operating loss depending, of course, on the percentage of occupancy during this initial period. For this reason a fund of not less than $75,000 should be available when the hospital is built to cover the early operating losses and to provide normal working capital such as would be available to any successful business.

In accordance with the foregoing and the fact that the Hospital District has already on hand an appreciable fund, it is believed that the construction of the West Valley Hospital as now proposed can be financed adequately with a bond issue of $750,000.

TAXATION

The 1952 assessed valuation of taxable property in the West Valley District is in excess of $41,000,000. The taxable value of this area has during the past several years increased at a very rapid rate and it therefore does not seem unreasonable to assume that such a base would reach at least $50,000,000 at a time about midway of a 10-year bond issue which was proposed in 1951 for the construction of the West Valley District Hospital. A bond issue of $750,000 supported by this tax base should not result in an appreciable increase of taxes even for the larger taxpayers of the District. It is recommended that should the Hospital Board decide to place the proposal for the construction of the hospital before the voters in a future election that a very careful estimate be made and the voters given exact information as to the tax aspects of this matter. It should be explained also that this tax increase applies only during the life of the bonds and that with efficient management by qualified citizens of the area elected by the voters, the hospital should be entirely self-supporting in from one to two years.

LOCATION

The location selected for the hospital is quite suitable and is as close to the population center of the District as practicable.

GENERAL

Many existing hospitals today or units within hospitals are supported by private contributions. It may be possible to enlist the support of residents or organizations within this District for the purpose of endowment and maintenance of certain parts of this hospital when built.

It was hoped that this report would receive the unanimous support of the entire group. This was not possible because certain views could not be reconciled. This report reflects the majority opinion of the group and is signed by that majority.

SUMMARY OF RECOMMENDATIONS

The pertinent parts of this report which the group feels may be summarized as its recommendations are as follows:

- Every resident of West Valley District should be given all information available with respect to the Proposed West Valley District Hospital particularly with respect to need, cost and taxes.
- A hospital is needed in this time since facilities now available or projected for the immediate future do not fulfill requirements reasonably well on the basis of the essential beds required. Serious need develops within a short time on account of the large population increase and by 1962 becomes acute.

3. The cost of the hospital is estimated to be $750,000. This includes $75,000 of working capital.

4. The hospital will not be self-supporting during its first year of operation. With good management it should be self-supporting in its second and subsequent years.

5. The increase of taxes necessary to build and operate the hospital will not be excessive.

6. The proposed location is satisfactory.

'COT CUTTER DEMONSTRATION SET FOR JULY 17

California's 175 thousand ton apricot industry may receive a shot in the arm if the University of California's new apricot cutter passes its final examination this summer.

For over two years University agricultural engineering specialists Coby Lorenzen, Jr., and Lloyd

On Thursday, July, the Agricultural Extension Service will demonstrate this efficient, inexpensive mechanical apricot cutter for Santa Clara County dry yard owners. All persons interested are cordially invited to the demonstration which has tentatively been set for Thursday, July 17, at 10 a.m., at the Carlton Rouse dry yard on the east side of Monterey Highway, two-tenths of a mile south of Tennant Avenue, about midway between Coyote and San Jose.

Watch the press for change in date, or phone the Agricultural Extension Service, at CY 5-9202, San Jose.

Lamoria have been working on an apricot cutter to meet the needs of California growers. A pilot model machine, developed by the engineers, will be field tested in various sections of California this summer. The cutter, developed expressly for dry yard drying, may prove to be a boon to an industry that has faced a scarcity of labor and an unusually high cost of operation. In California up to 85 percent of all apricots are dried or canned. The shortage of skilled cutters and high operating costs have actually forced some growers to replace their orchards with a more economical crop.

The machine developed at the University's College of Agriculture is designed to solve such problems as cutting the cot along the natural suture, taking the pit out and then spreading the fruits for drying. The University engineers are also faced with the problem of developing a machine that could be operated by the growers themselves.

TENNIS, MUSIC SWIMMING SET FOR AREA KIDS

Campbell Union High school Area Recreation program directors announce that lessons in music, tennis, and swimming will be scheduled as to enable the children to participate in all three if they wish. Most of the children who will take music lessons will be scheduled for two or three 30-minute sessions each day. This will permit the children to enroll in either swimming or tennis or both between 9:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m.

Transportation to and from the high school for the music program will be furnished by the Recreation Commission. It will be necessary, however, to schedule the busses so that all the children arrive at the same time, even though their music instruction period may not start until later in the morning.

It will also be necessary for those who are through with their music lessons early to wait until the instruction period is over at 12:00 o'clock before returning home on the bus.

Children who finish their music program early may choose to take tennis lessons at the 10:00 or 1:00 o'clock session, or may participate in the playground program at the Campbell Elementary school.

Parents who wish to, may pick up their children at the conclusion of their daily lessons. Parents whose children are interested in learning to play tennis are urged to register their children in the lessons which will begin at the High School courts on next Monday. Hal Drummond, tennis coach at the high school, will give group instruction lessons for a period of three weeks starting on Monday, July 14.

Classes will be one hour long and will be scheduled at 9:00-10:00 and 11:00 o'clock. Players must furnish their own racquets and shoes and pay a fee of $3.50. Tennis balls will be furnished by the Recreation Commission.

Later in the summer a series of tennis tournaments will be sponsored by the Commission.

If a large enough number of high school age players would like to take tennis lessons, an evening class will be arranged.

Luther Burbank has scheduled a skate party from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. tomorrow for 8 year olds and older. There will be a party for the younger children at the playground

San Tomas Mites Munch Melons At Playground Feast

Key event of Thursday afternoon at San Tomas playground was "watermelon day." The big feed followed after vigorous romping under the water sprinklers. Other activities of the day included a morning softball game, table tennis games, volley ball, handball and various group games and races. Circle games were enjoyed by all under the water sprinklers. Craft activities, story telling, and a technicolor movie concluded the well-rounded day of fun and frolic.

San Tomas playground children put on their first talent show of the summer for their parents. Entertainment included the talents of Pattie Lopez, Sharon Baber, Leonard Howell, Rochelle Greason, Jon Hancock, Gil Mesa, Joan Swan, and Carol Swan. BURBANK LIONS TAKE TOP SPOT IN SOFTBALL

Beverly-Burbank Lions took top spot in the Campbell area softball league with a 15-8 shellacking of previous top dogs Calado Studio in the second game of a double-header Monday night.

Monte Vista Rams nipped the Gas Construction club, 6-4 after coming from behind. The game went for nine innings. A home run by Gene Rutt in the seventh tied up the ball game at 4-4. The Rams surged ahead in the ninth with an unearned run.

The eight team league schedules Independents against VFW tomorrow night in the 7 p.m. opener and Calado and the Gas Construction tangle in the 8:30 p.m. game.

STINK BUG SHOWS UP IN LOCAL ORCHARDS

A new insect pest is threatening pears, apples, and other deciduous fruits in California—the consperse stink bug.

When it first showed up in orchards two years ago, entomologists at the University of California College of Agriculture immediately began working out control measures. This large brown insect caused up to 90 percent fruit losses last year on some pear trees.

Studies show that the stink bug overwinters as adults in dead grass, trash, and debris in the fields and orchards. In March they come out of hiding to feed and lay eggs on broad-leaved weeds and cover crops. The eggs hatch in one to three weeks and reach the adult stage in June and July. Many of the developing bugs move outside the orchard to feed on nearby broad-leaved weeds.

The adults of this new generation do the damage. When warmer weather turns the plants brown, the bugs move from the native plants onto green foliage and maturing fruit in the trees. Most of the fruit damage is done just before harvest time.

A single bug may ruin all the pears in a cluster. The insects start feeding at the stem end of the fruit and gradually move over the whole surface. Their feeding punctures produce whitish, corky areas under the skin which turn brown on exposure to air. The damaged fruit is unfit for canning and market.

Control measures for the consperse stink bug are two-fold—cultural and chemical. Cover crops and broad-leaved weeds should be cleaned up around orchards, particularly when the bugs are young. Cover crops may be sprayed with insecticides to kill the bugs before they move onto trees. In field trials last year lindane, parathion, and dieldrin sprays gave about 95 percent control in most areas. Herbicides can also be used to destroy the weeds.

Laboratory feeding tests show that this insect can also live on a wide variety of fruits and vegetables, making it a potential threat to many other crops in California.

SLAVE BUYS RANCH

Henry Gray, a negro slave, secured 80 acres of land in pioneer days at the corner of Hamilton and Johnson avenues, where the residence of J. C. Ainsley now stands. G. W. Blackford, brother-in-law of Hamilton and a San Jose attorney, assisted him in securing his title.

An oil well being drilled in Stone county, Mississippi, has reached 20,325 feet and is still drilling.

THE BIG LIE RUSE

Last year we were accused by the Communists of scattering 'potato bugs' on East German farms. More recently the charge was germ warfare in Manchuria. If, when midsummer rolls around, any important area of Communist activity suffers from drought, we may be sure that our recent rainmaking projects will be cited as proof that we have tampered with their weather.

All that propaganda is intended for consumption by Communist masses and gullible intended victims. Communists know we don't accept such propaganda, but they also know that their own special audience, having no means by which to disprove such claims, inevitably accept as true that which is repeated endlessly without dissent. So it is ended into Communist ears day after day.

There is one place, however, where Communist disregard for the truth has caused a great deal of unwarranted turmoil within our own country. This occurs when the Communists are successful in what they term the "partial-issue" tactic.

What is a PARTIAL ISSUE? Mr. Pettis Perry, acting head of the American Communist Party, writing on "The Farm Question in California" in a recent issue of the publication, Political Affairs, urges the Communist Party faithful to carry on the fight in California for: 1. Minimum pay for farm workers. 2. Better housing for farm workers. 3. Mobile schools for children of migratory workers. 4. Compulsory education for children of migratory workers. 5. Enforcement of the child labor law. 6. Unemployment insurance for seasonal workers. 7. Guaranteed farm prices with subsidies to keep consumer prices down. 8. Low interest rates on farm mortgages and farm debt relief. 9. Opposition to UMT.

These are all sympathetic causes and there are many well-intentioned persons who can be interested in advancing them. Now comes the telling effect of Communist untruth. Having enlisted the support of people, who obviously are receptive to begin with, the Communists commence to fill them with all sorts of untruths, half-truths, and just plain lies. These can be refuted only by actual knowledge of conditions in the

DEATH TAKES INFANT SON OF ROY GARDNERS

Funeral services for two-month-old Michael Roy Gardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Gardner, 2081 Ardis Avenue, San Jose, were conducted last Saturday from Krieger Memorial Chapel. The infant died of a heart ailment.

He died at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrews W. Olson, 110 Central Avenue. The Rev. Herbert Neale of Campbell Methodist Church officiated. Interment was at Oak Hill Memorial Park.

Besides his parents the infant is survived by a sister and a brother, Carolyn Fay and Kenneth Gardner.

CAMPBELL REGISTER

Mr. and Mrs. CARL E. FIELD, of Field's Store on Campbell avenue, and daughter, Mary Sue, left Sunday for a three-week vacation trip which was planned to include a visit to Lake Tahoe to visit family members, then across country to Montana to visit their son, C. E. Field Jr., on up to Lake Louise and home by way of Vancouver, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. BUDD LEVENBERG with children KERRY and LYNNE, plan to leave day after tomorrow on a motor trip to Lake Tahoe to visit Campbell residents Mr. and Mrs. FRANK COOMBS, who own a resort at the lake. Vacation will last about two weeks.

MORRIS VOSSLER, son of Rev. and Mrs. O. B. VOSSLER, 130 Railway avenue, who underwent an operation for a ruptured appendix a week ago last Saturday at San Jose Hospital, went back into the operating room a second time last Saturday for a localized infection.

According to his parents, Morris felt ill Friday night and Dr. MILFORD JORGENSEN, who has been in attendance, decided the second operation was necessary.

Vossler's parents say he is coming along fine and they expect him home early next week.

Mr. and Mrs. PHILLIP N. FLAGG, Campbell Frozen Food Locker, spent the holiday weekend on a motor trip to Carmel and San Luis Obispo.

Campbell Man Demo Treasurer

James E. Allen, Campbell resident, has been elected treasurer of the Democratic Central Committee. The election was held Tuesday night when the new Central Committee was organized. Roland Davis of Palo Alto was elected chairman, Len Griffith of Sunnyvale, vice chairman and Charles Leach of San Jose, secretary.

Allen is former advertising manager of the Campbell Press and present publisher of the Saratoga Observer. He resides with his family at 685 Lucot Way.

Ground was broken for the world's first cable street railway, in San Francisco, June 2, 1873.

farming area, something which the city dweller rarely has.

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION

As time goes on, the individual who started out as merely a sympathizer for a "worthy cause" is drawn more and more into the orbit of Communist Party activity. Seldom does he realize the "partial issue" of some social welfare reform has been the hook on which he then dangles. This method of operation explains many of the instances where prominent people—apparently with nothing to gain and everything to lose—have embraced the Communist cause.

The importance of the partial-issue tactic is disclosed by Perry when he says, "We must know how to unleash struggle on partial issues and how to develop them more fully on a number of issues. This is not an easy task, but it is a task that must be fulfilled if we are to succeed in this battle."

If one is to avoid being made use of by these persistent, presumptuous party members, he must coldly and methodically analyze all proposals and issues regardless of their sympathetic appeal. Only by so doing can he isolate that which is sound and worth-while from that which has been tacked on as a useful "partial issue" to achieve a well-planned Communist purpose.

I REMEMBER...

By THE OLD-TIMERS

From Mrs. Emma Reece of Kings Mountain, Ky.: "I remember when girls and their beaux rode horseback to church. The girls rode sidesaddle and wore long riding skirts. The boy would help the girl off her horse and hitch it to a limb of a tree. After church he would help her on her horse, and then jump on his horse and they'd go galloping home. What happy days those were!"

From "Old-Timer Indeed" of Fairmont, W. Va.: "I remember when an ordinary poker was used by girls as a hair curler... horse-hound candy was used as a cold remedy... upping blocks prevented displays of feminine ankles... pickle dish hats were worn by men who dressed up on Sunday or for a funeral... a coal scuttle was a household necessity."

From E. E. Meredith of Fairmont, W. Va.: "I remember when the number of cards left in the hall tray by young men of the neighborhood was a yardstick of a young lady's popularity. The names were written by penmen who made a specialty of it. Often a bird adorned the card."

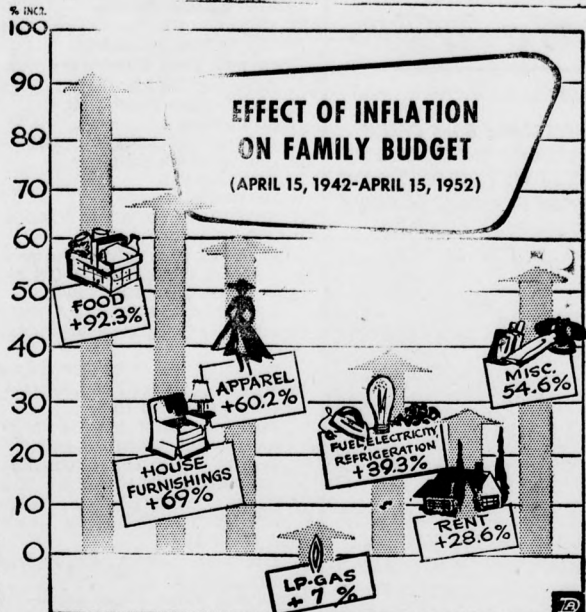

From Mrs. Mary Stewart of Chicago: "I remember when house dresses were wrappers... sweaters were jerseys... pants were drawers... gloves were mittens... slips were camisoles... blouses were waists... galoshes were articles... suspenders were galluses... overcoats were ulsters... vests were waistcoats... ladies blouses were shirtwaists... separate shirts, first worn about 50 years ago, were called golf or rainy day shirts."

A native of Lancashire, Mrs. Stark moved to Wales when very young. In later years she has lived in San Francisco, but she returned to Wales for the three years ending last November, when she came back to California. Campbell is now her chosen home; she became acquainted with our town when she visited her good friends, the J. F. LEVENBERGS, four years ago. Mrs. Stark has joined the adult glee club at the high school and so completes her environment with her favorite avocation. Daughter MARIAN is attending summer school at San Jose State College, where she is a junior majoring in physical education.

Teamwork Makes Nation Strong, Kiwanians Told

Teamwork between farmers and canners in turning out approximately $700,000,000 worth of canned and frozen foods a year in California is an example of how the free enterprise system makes America the strongest nation in the world.

That message was brought to the meeting of the Campbell Kiwanis Club, Tuesday, by J. Roger Deas, of the American Can Company, at a luncheon at the Library building.

It is American craftsmanship and business know-how energetically applied in a system of private enterprise, that has made canning and allied industries a major source of prosperity for farmers, workers and fishermen in California, said the representative of the container-making firm.

The income of the state's farmers has been expanded through the cultivation of more than 470,000 acres of fruits and vegetables for sale to canners, Deas said. In addition, food canners provide jobs for an average of 55,500 workers annually in the state.

He said that Santa Clara County benefited considerably from the state's can-using industries.

Deas pointed out that more than 24,000 acres of land in Santa Clara county are devoted to growing fruits and vegetables for the canning industry. Principal canning crops are apricots, cherries, pears, beans and tomatoes. County farmers last year received more than $15,000,000 from these and other crops raised for canning, he said.

"As you may know," he said, "Santa Clara County canneries helped California canners turn out nearly 14,000,000 cases of foods last year."

The food can, he said, makes America the best fed nation in the world.

"These are some of the reasons why you in Santa Clara County can be proud of your canning industries and the part they play in keeping America strong, both in peace and war," he concluded. "And that is why we can be thankful that our democratic system makes it possible for the skill, initiative and ingenuity of our workers, businessmen and farmers to produce for all of us."

Grange Members Hear Report On Future Business

Business portion of Orchard City Grange meeting last Tuesday at which master George Shattuck presided concerned a report from Harry Barnes, chairman of the legislative committee, on general business conditions within the next three years.

Barnes, quoting "U.S. News and World Reports" reported on the effect of various political prophecies on business in general.

The report quoted good business conditions in general with employment and national income remaining at a fairly high level.

"Real estate taxes will be up, but Federal taxes will remain the same," Barnes quoted the report as saying.

"General prosperity will tend to help the party in power, while the party not in power will emphasize the dangers of war and the huge Federal deficit," Barnes said.

Entertainment for the evening was under the direction of Grange lecturer Lucille Hoerler and consisted of songs and dances.

Sharon Bayard sang "Little White Cloud That Cried." "Singing in the Rain" received a special rendition by Glenna Straight, Patty Straight, and Sharon Bayard. Karen Carmichael entertained with a tap dance routine. Lina Corey gave a drum majorette exhibition. Tap dances were also given by Diana Ralph. A song, "Blacksmith Blues" was sung by Glenna and Patty Straight. Karen Carmichael gave a Spanish dance and Sharon Bayard gave a fan dance.

Refreshments were served under the direction of committee members Mrs. Ida Currie, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Weitzel, and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Butts.

Cambrian School Organizes Dance Group For Summer

Wednesday evening, July 2, the Cambrian Junior Dance Group held their second meeting in the Cambrian School auditorium. The young people departed for a short time from the usual recreation of social and folk dancing to organize as a dancing club. By popular ballot, Richard Ison was selected as president of the group; Eleanor Olivera, vice-president, and Anthony Pedrazzi, secretary-treasurer. Punch and cookies were served during the evening.

The dancing group is an evening unit under the Campbell Union Recreation Program.

Thursday, July 3, was specialty day at the Cambrian Recreation Center. The afternoon program consisted of an amateur show, motion pictures, an ice-cream party, and indoor games.

The amateur show was capably directed by Allen Weltz, as master of ceremonies. Entertainers in the show were: Sharon Fossum, a baton-twirling exhibition; Billy Sheeder, vocal solo; Sally House, piano solo; Allen Weltz, vocal and pantomime; Marilyn Gibbs, violin solo. A dramatic skit was presented by Douglas Luring, Susie Lane and Billy Lane.

Winners for the game period were: Judy Sheeder, Sharon Fossum and Bonnie Smith. Sally House took top honors by successfully pinning the beard on Uncle Sam.

American Business Behind The Scenes

By REYNOLDS KNIGHT

Many an industrialist today is gravely wagging his head over the chronic labor unrest. Since the end of World War I approximately 38,000,000 tons of steel ingots have been lost due to strikes in coal mines and steel mills.

Since 1945 there have been five years in which coal strikes interfered with steel production, and three years when steel strikes directly stopped output. The loss in steel output would be sufficient to make 15,000,000 automobiles.

Whether the nation can afford chronic strikes—and the above figures refer only to major tieups, not wildcat strikes—is a question that many a businessman keeps asking. So far, labor legislation has not been very effective in maintaining production. There are some predictions that compulsory arbitration, such as some states impose with regard to public utilities, can be expected unless conditions take a turn for the better. At any rate, one of the first responsibilities of the new Congress may be to devise means for dealing with strikes.

IMPROVING THE BREED—The Iron Horse will be a much stouter steed if a vitamin pill proposed by a study group of the Transportation Association of America becomes part of his regular feed-box diet.

The transportation body is recommending measures that would give the American railroads an even shake with their competitors and thus attract to them the flow of investment capital that is so necessary to their continued operations. This would be the effect of a series of recommendations it has made and which would add up to a modernized transportation policy.

A major proposal calls for the elimination of long and costly (to the rails) delay periods between application for rate increases and their final effective dates.

Another provides that all users of domestic government-owned facilities—such as highways, waterways and airports—pay a fair share of the building and maintenance costs of the facilities they use.

THINGS TO COME—Supermarkets are getting as interested in pushcart design progress as most of us are in each new year's automobiles. The latest, with a built-in baby seat, is practically tip-proof. Giving your typewriter a rest: material originally designed to be used as an anti-fatigue floor matting is now being sold as typewriter pads. If this doesn't soothe the tired businessman's jangled nerves, try a new sound-absorbing desk now on the market. Metal workers will be interested in a ready-mixed aluminum paint that, the maker says, can be permanently bonded to practically "all" metal surfaces and is heat-resistant, anti-corrosive and weather-resistant. Also available is a handy electrolytic process which removes discolorations in hard-to-get-at corners resulting from welding. A one-way peephole with a wide-angle lens for mounting in doors may well become popular in offices that handle sizeable amounts of cash.

'NAUTICAL GODFATHERS'—Honoring employees for long service is an industry practice that takes many forms, but Freeport Sulphur Co. has one of the most appropriate ideas yet. The firm names boats in its fleet for workers who have been on the job for many years. Most industrial firms operating marine units customarily name vessels for top officials, but rank isn't taken into consideration at Freeport. To date, 26 employees, from drill crewman to chief engineer, have been given this unusual citation. Most of the workers have been with the company 30 or more years and their names appear on the passenger boats, drilling barges, tug boats and dredges required to serve Freeport's sulphur developments at Grande Ecaille, Garden Island Bay and Bay Ste. Elaine in Louisiana.

'SHOCKING' FABRICS—Retailers are not too happy about some of the new synthetic fabrics. No customer wants a garment which picks up dirt and lint. No one likes an electric shock. Few want to wear clothes that cling. Yet static electricity, which produces the above-mentioned effects, is often characteristic of some of the new "wonder" textiles.

These fabrics can generate an objectionable amount of electricity. Many hospitals have forbidden the use of such materials because of danger that the electricity might cause an explosion in an operation room.

This is a problem the New York section of the American Association of Textile Chemists and Colorists last week set itself to solve. The answer must be found if there is to be a wide acceptance of the new fabrics.

BITS O' BUSINESS—The steel and oil strikes reduced the average factory work week from the May, 1951, level of 40.7 hours to 40.0

hours in May of this year... U.S. corporations publicly reporting dividends (about two-thirds of the total) paid out approximately $2.7 billion during the first five months of 1951; that's up six percent from last year. May alone was up ten percent to $234 million, due largely to a number of firms shifting their payments to that month... Shipments of copper and brass were almost 110,000 tons in May as against 106,000 tons in April... The machine tool shipments index jumped too, from 307.9 in April to 322.3 in May. But the orders index declined from 293.5 to 286.3.
